Dear Parent/Carer

Following the letter sent home regarding the return to school in September a number of people have asked about PE lessons and whether kit will be needed. The intention is for practical PE to take place with additional measures such as not doing contact sport and so kit will be needed (although not for the first day back). I have attached a leaflet for your information so that you can see the current intentions. This will be put on the website with a risk assessment. Of course, like everything we are planning, there is the possibility that the guidance will change again before September.

Regards

Ian Bryant
